

IOWATER Workshop

What's in your water? Do you want to do your part to improve water quality? The Iowa DNR is holding an IOWATER workshop at the Prairie Heritage Center on September 26 & 27.

IOWATER is a statewide volunteer water quality monitoring program. Volunteers completing the ten hour training will learn "why" and "how to" monitor water, what to do with the data, and most of all enjoy some good old "muddy fun!"

Find out more about the workshop by checking out the IOWATER website at www.iowater.net or by contacting our office.
